CCLI # 7210113

Elton Smith and Larry Holder

The musical score is written for a single melodic line in 4/4 time. It begins with an introduction of four measures, marked with chords G, C, Em7, and F. The melody starts on a whole rest, followed by a half note G4, a quarter note A4, and a half note B4. The first line of lyrics, 'Long a - go when I was young', is aligned under the first four measures. The second line, '(There are) times I lose my way', is aligned under the next four measures. The melody continues with a half note C5, a quarter note B4, and a half note A4. The third line of lyrics, 'they told me of your name', is aligned under the next four measures. The fourth line, 'I can hard - ly ev - en pray', is aligned under the final four measures. The score continues with lines 5 through 37, each with its own set of lyrics and corresponding chords. The key signature changes to three flats (Bb, Eb, Ab) at measure 33. The final line of the score, measure 37, ends with the lyrics 'For the peace that has no end the joy that's come to stay'.
